Testimonial

Outsourced HR Agency

"I work with a number of companies as an outsourced HR Consultant providing them with advice on how to recruit and select new employees. When discussing various methods to source candidates i4Jobs is always at the top of my list. The cost of the service is extremely competitive based to the volume of job boards they have access to. The last two roles that we recruited using i4Jobs has resulted in over 150 applicants per role. Catherine and the team at i4Jobs are extremely helpful and always try to find ways that they can increase applicant rates on extremely hard to fill roles."

Case Study

Group HR Manager at international electronics company

The group consists of several industrial electronic repair companies throughout eight countries worldwide. We are a large, successful and rapidly growing Group with turnover figure in excess of £12mil in 2008.

Until recently we were having trouble recruiting the right kind of people for the organisation and even attracting the right calibre of application to our vacancies. Then we found out about i4jobs.

In July 2008 we placed two graduate roles as a test and have not looked back since that first overwhelming response. The calibre of applicants was at the level we wanted and the level of response was fantastic!

Since that test we are now a returning, loyal customer and have placed eleven roles with i4jobs, resulting in a 100% success rate.

This has saved us from £3000 - £4000 per hire when compared with using recruitment agencies, £30000 - £40000 saved is a huge chunk of the budget!

I cannot recommend i4jobs highly enough to fellow Human Resources teams. They really can deliver on what they promise at an affordable price!
